

ZINSSER ANALYTIC

by Gardner Denver

We are your best partner in customized laboratory automation, complementary software and consumables.

The Gardner Denver Medical brands Zinsser Analytic, ILS, Thomas, Welch and TriContinent serve more than 5,000 customers globally with a production network of seven modern manufacturing facilities throughout the U.S., Europe and Asia.

With our knowhow at Zinsser Analytic we design customized high output workbench automation solutions for customers of the chemical, pharmaceutical and other industries. Complementary software solutions are designed specifically for each robot. Our scientists help you to find the best workflow opportunities for automating your target process.

We are searching you starting 01.09.2019 for

Apprenticeship Mechatronics Engineer (m/w/d)

(Eschborn close to Frankfurt am Main)

Your Tasks:

- Installation, examination and putting in operation of mechanic, pneumatic and electric systems.
- Planning and programming of regulating, measuring and control devices
- Understanding and application of circuit diagrams, schematics and user manuals.

Your Qualifications:

- Good secondary school certificate, vocational baccalaureate diploma or baccalaureate diploma.
- Good marks in Maths, Physics, German and English.
- Handicraft skills.
- Interest in technical subjects.
- Capability of abstraction.
- Team spirit.
- Timeliness and reliability.
- Responsibility and safety consciousness.
- Engagement, proactivity high motivation.

Your application:

Are you interested in working within our innovative team? Submit your filled and expressive application today to:

ZINSSER ANALYTIC GMBH

Frau Seden Ülker
Schwalbacher Str. 62
65760 Eschborn
Person.zinsser-analytic@gardnerdenver.com

We are looking forward in receiving your application!